THE OFFICIAL COUNT

Begun Throughout Kentucky by the Boards of Canvass rs.

CONTESTS ARE INEVITABLE.

Excitement Continues at a High Pitch and Meetings Are Held to Protest Against Any Manipulation of Returns.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 10.—The uncertainty regarding the result of Tuesday's election in this state is not likely to be removed for some time. Both sides still claim victory, the state chairman of each party asserting that his ticket has a plurality of about 4,000.

Newspaper returns from Republican sources give Taylor a plurality of 3,438, while those from Democratic sources make Goehel's plurality 941. These latter cover all but 35 precincts in the state, although several reports from counties give estimated pluralities instead of actual. Of the missing precincts five are in Louisville, which went Republican this year, 20 are in strong Republican counties and 10 are in strong Democratic counties.

Feeling among the factions has been aggravated, rather than allayed, by the developments since Tuesday. Excited meetings are being held in many parts of the state to protest against frauds, which it is alleged are being contemplated by the leaders.

Nothing short of the official count will determine the result, and it is a foregone conclusion that the announcement of that count will simply change the scene of conflict to the courts or the legislature, where it will appear in the form of a contest.

The situation has not changed materially up to 1 p. m. The official count was begun in all parts of the state by the county boards of canvassers. In this city large crowd gathered at the courthouse, but there was no disturbance. The latest claims from newspaper returns are a plurality of 963 for Goehel by the Times, and a plurality of 3,605 for Taylor claimed by the Evening Post.

Caldwell's Election Conceded.
Columbus, O., Nov. 10.—Nash's plurality will be somewhere between 49,000 and 50,000. Owing to the Anti-Saloon league fight against Hon. John Caldwell, he will run 37,000 behind Nash, but his election is now conceded by 12,000. Judge Badger, Democrat, for supreme judge, received nearly 450,000 votes, which is larger than the vote received by the governor-elect, but still Badger was defeated, as many of the Jones voters cast their ballots for his opponent. Jones' total vote will likely reach 103,000.

Mayor Jones' Denial.
Toledo, O., Nov. 10.—Mayor Jones issued a signed statement in which he denies that he had said: "If my race has in any way contributed to the success of John R. McLean, and a rebuke to the infamous policy of the administration, I feel it has not been in vain." He adds that he favors a Christian policy toward the Filipinos, and believes they have a right to be free as well as the Americans.

More Arrests.
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 10.—Buford Williams, Wm. Thompson and Coleman Carr, prominent Democrats, have been arrested by Deputy United States Marshal McCarty on warrants charging intimidation of colored voters on Tuesday. This makes a total of nine warrants of this kind issued by the federal court, and it is understood that probably 100 more will be issued.

Senator Hanna Ill.
Cleveland, O., Nov. 10.—Senator M. A. Hanna, chairman of the national Republican committee, is almost prostrated as the result of his work in the late campaign, and has decided to go to New York next week for special treatment for rheumatism. He refuses to discuss the subject of the management of the next national campaign.

Two Counties Not Reported.
Louisville, Nov. 10.—The Western Union issued its last bulletin on the Kentucky election, saying that with complete returns from 94 counties and nearly complete from 23 others, Taylor's plurality is 1,382. The two counties not reported, Leslie and Martin, gave in 1897 a Republican plurality of 1,135.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Admiral Schley received his final orders from the navy department to hoist his flag on the Chicago at New York on the 17th inst., assuming command of the South Atlantic station.

BY PIGEON POST.

General White Communicates With His Superior From Ladysmith.

London, Nov. 10.—The British war office has received from General Buller the following dispatch from Cape Town: "Have received by pigeon post from General White the following:

"The bombardment at long range by heavy guns continues daily. A few casualties are occurring, but no serious damage is being done.

"The Boers sent in a number of refugees from the Transvaal under a flag of truce. A flag of truce from Ladysmith met them outside the pickets. When the party separated the Boer guns fired on it before it reached our pickets. Major Gale of the Royal engineers was wounded while sending a message. The entrenchments are daily growing stronger and the supply of provisions is ample."

Heavy Bombardment.

New York, Nov. 10.—A dispatch from Estcourt says trustworthy information concerning the actual state of affairs in Ladysmith comes from two civilians, who arrived, having escaped from the besieged town by evading the British patrols and stealing through the Boer lines. They say that both the town and the British camp are completely invested, and that artillery firing back and forth is continuous. The bombardment is heavy, but its effect is represented to be petty. The Boers are slightly superior in strength, but the British forces maintain a vigorous defense, fighting daily.

Arrived at Cape Town.

Cape Town, Nov. 10.—The British transport Moor, having on board the officers of the staff of the three divisions of the British army corps on its way to South Africa, arrived here.

Arrested For Inciting Riot.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—Three of the striking employees of Cramps shipyard and Business Agent John J. Keegan of the International Association of Machinists and Frederick Counselman, treasurer of the machinists' organization, were arrested and held in $2,000 bail each, charged with inciting to riot. The strikers under arrest are Hugh Boyd, Thomas Wilson and Joseph Nelson. The direct cause of the arrest was the refusal of the men to move away from the vicinity of the shipyard when ordered to do so by the police.

Rice Will Testify.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The Industrial commission spent the forenoon in executive session considering a statement which Mr. George Rice of Ohio had submitted at the request of the commission, forecasting what he expected to say on the stand. This statement, it is said, will be severe in its reflection upon railroads, the Standard Oil company, the Interstate commerce commission, and also upon other government officials. The commission has directed Mr. Rice to eliminate certain portions of his testimony.

Bicycle Works Burned.

Cincinnati, Nov. 10.—The Norwood bicycle works had a disastrous fire, which practically destroyed the contents of the three lower floors. The upper floors, filled with stock, escaped injury. The loss is estimated at $70,000; well insured. Only about 25 workmen are thrown out of employment, as the next season's work had just begun. It usually employs 400 persons.

Shot and Robbed.

Dunlap, Tenn., Nov. 10.—R. M. Robinson, a prominent merchant, was shot and robbed of $2,500 while returning to his home near here. He had been to Cincinnati, where he had sold a lot of mules and horses. Upon his arrival he was met at Dunlap by his brother and they started over the Cumberland mountains. They were met by three masked men.

To Study Meteors.

Berkeley, Cal., Nov. 10.—The big meteor shower which astronomers predict for next week is to be made a subject of special study by the department of astronomy in the University of California. Preparations are being made for such records to be taken as will prove of interest to the general public.

No Change In Hobart's Condition.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 10.—No bulletin was issued giving the condition of the vice president. The only information given out was that Mr. Hobart had had a restful night, and was comfortable. There was practically no change in his condition.

Bryan's Congratulations.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 10.—William Goebel has received the following telegram from Colonel William J. Bryan: "Have just learned that returns are near enough complete to insure your election. Congratulations. I am sure your administration will strengthen the party."

IN CLOSE QUARTERS.

The American Forces Are Pushing Aguinaldo to the Limit.

POSITIONS OF BOTH ARMIES.

Insurgent Leader and Main Body of His Followers Are Now Located on Head Waters of the Magat River.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The war department has received the following from General Otis at Manila:

"General Lawton experiences some difficulties on account of the continued unprecedented rains in that section of the country. His advance was at San Jose Thursday and at Carrangan Friday. Strong force put through on Algoa route. Young captured considerable additional Cubanatoan arsenal property in transit north, among which was 144 2-inch and 22 boxes 1-inch, and one box of ammunition for Hotchkiss guns; 50 projectiles for 5 and 8-inch breech-loading rifle cannon, two boxes of Grenades and considerable other ordnance property, and two tons casting and arsenal machinery in parts. He is meeting with opposition, but advance is not much impeded thereby.

"MacArthur reconnoitered north of Mabalacat, Bell to left, Slaven's scouts directed to front and Smith, Seventeenth Infantry, on Magalang and Concepcion road. Bell, Thirty-sixth, with five of his officers and two privates of his regiment mounted, and one officer and 10 men of the Fourth cavalry struck 100 insurgents in the mountains west of Mabalacat, and charged them, killing and wounding 19, captured six, and 30 Mauser rifles. Railroad from Angeles to Bamhan destroyed.

"MacArthur will have 40,000 rations to front, and will take up advance to Tarlac at once. Wheaton reports 28 Spanish prisoners secured, and 300 insurgent recruits escaped to mountains from enemy during battle at San Fahan. These recruits were en route to Dagupan. Wheaton says everything is favorable to carrying out successfully his instructions, and that cooperation of navy is complete."

A second dispatch from General Otis follows:

"Report received concerning Wheaton's movements erroneous. He did land at San Fahan as directed, and drove bulk of enemy back in desired direction towards Dagupan. Operations completely successful in every particular."

Message From Otis Explained.

Great interest is felt in the war department over Aguinaldo's sudden change of base northeastward from Tarlac to Bayombon, about 160 miles distant. There are numerous spellings of the latter place, but the form given is the one most generally adhered to on the maps in possession of the war department. The most interesting features of the new situation is that Aguinaldo has been forced out of the Tagalo country into a region to the north, where Tagalo is not spoken, and where the mountains are filled with Negritos and other savage tribes, who are hostile to the Tagalos. This is about the most mountainous and inaccessible part of the island.

It is on the headwaters of the Magat that Aguinaldo is now located. The way is open for him down the long stretch of the river to Apayao, at the mouth of the Cagan, where it flows into the sea. This is one of the wildest but richest valleys in the island.

It is believed that the river Cagan is navigable for our tin-clad boats 150 miles from its mouth, and for canoes much further.

It is expected as soon as Aguinaldo shows any disposition to move down the valley toward the China sea that warships and gunboats will be sent round the northern end of the island to meet him and to cut off his escape.

If it is his intention to escape from Luzon he would naturally seek Apayao or some northern port, but the country around Caballo mountain is such that he could probably stand off the whole American force in a game of hide and seek in the hills for the greater part of the coming season.

He Died Happy.

Washington, Nov. 10.—General Brooke at Havana has informed the war department of the death of Sergeant Philip Ryntz, company E, Second cavalry, who died on Nov. 7 of chronic alcoholism.

Fifer Appointed.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The president has appointed former Governor Joseph Fifer of Illinois, a member of the interstate commerce commission, vice J. W. Calhoun resigned.

"RACE HORSE" CHARLEY

Killed During a Quarrel in a Cleveland Billiard Room.

Cleveland, Nov. 11.—Charles Bals, a negro known as "Race Horse" Charley, was shot and killed by Joseph W. Smith, the colored proprietor of a billiard room. The shooting was the result of a quarrel. Smith surrendered to the police.

Bals at one time followed the grand circuit races, and, by reason of his sporting propensities and gigantic physique became a familiar figure at these meetings. He recently completed a term in the Ohio penitentiary, where he was sent on account of a cutting affray.

For Next National Convention.

Cleveland, Nov. 10.—Senator Hanna stated that a call would be issued within a few days for the meeting of the national Republican committee at Washington. The meeting will probably be held on Dec. 13 and 14, although the exact date will not be decided until next week. The committee at this meeting will choose the date and place for holding the next national convention. There are two vacancies on the committee, and these will be filled at the forthcoming session of that body.

A Destructive Blaze.

Springfield, O., Nov. 10.—New Carlisle was visited by a destructive fire, destroying the opera house and several other buildings. Eleven business places were burned out and the loss will reach $50,000. The Odd Fellows' building, costing $12,000, and the opera house, valued at $10,000, were badly damaged. The fire started in the feed store next to the opera house. A drug store and two saloons were destroyed.

Humann Volee in a Corner Stone.

Fostoria, O., Nov. 10.—A novelty in the manner of laying cornerstones took place at Bascom this week, when the cornerstone for the new schoolhouse was laid. The speech for the occasion was made by H. P. Black, Tiffin's city solicitor, and it was recorded on a graphophone cylinder, which, with the graphophone, was placed in the stone with the other articles to be kept.

New Incorporations.

Columbus, O., Nov. 10.—The Church of Christ of Jamestown; increase of the capital stock of the H. C. Godman company of Columbus from $400,000 to $600,000; amendment changing name of the Denton Shoe company of Lancaster to the Fairfield Shoe company; increase of capital stock of the Fairfield Shoe company, Lancaster, from $30,000 to $120,000.

Nash's Private Secretary.

Columbus, O., Nov. 10.—Governor-elect Nash's private secretary will be Frederick N. Sinks of the Deshler family. Nash married into the Deshler family, and young Sink's wife is a granddaughter of the late Judge Thurman.

Killed by Cars.

Dayton, O., Nov. 10.—Charles Weidle and his niece, 13, were killed near the Miami River depot by being struck by a Big Four passenger train at the crossing. Their buggy was demolished and the horse killed.

To Sell Cotton Balls.

Meriden, Miss., Nov. 10.—O. C. King of this city, commissioner from the state of Mississippi to the Paris exposition in 1900, has arranged for what promises to be a great novelty in the way of an exhibit from this state. He has made arrangements with a party who had secured at the right season 500,000 selected full grown cotton balls, which will be sold at the Paris exposition by original cottonfield darkies as souvenirs of the American cotton exhibit.

Bank Wrecker Soaked.

Northampton, Mass., Nov. 10.—In the superior court, Lewis Warner, 60, who wrecked the Hampshire County National bank and the Hampshire Savings bank by embezzling $500,000, was sentenced to a term of not more than 12 or less than nine years, the first day to be in solitary confinement.

Petition In Bankruptcy.

New York, Nov. 10.—Adolph E. and Gustave Schwab, surviving partners of the firm of William Schwab & Sons, formerly manufacturers of photographic albums and paper boxes, have filed a petition in bankruptcy. Liability, $167,170; no assets.

Fatal Explosion.

REWARD IS OFFERED

LIMITED EXPRESS WRECKED.

General Superintendent Says the Tools Used by the Dastards Were Found Near the Scene of Accident.

Detroit, Nov. 10.—Michigan Central train No. 310, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Limited, northbound, was wrecked near Vienna, Mich., about 12 miles from Toledo, smashing four of the cars and the engine and injuring 21 persons, none of them, it is thought, fatally. The railroad officials assert that the rails were tampered with, causing them to spread when the rapidly moving train struck the curve.

General Superintendent L'Homme of the Michigan Central railway stated that the company would offer a reward of $2,500 for the capture and conviction of the persons who caused the wreck.

He said: "We are satisfied that the accident was caused by train wreckers. We found the tools they used with the marks fresh upon them. They are not our tools, as they were stamped 'M. D.' which stands for Michigan division. All our tools are plainly stamped with the initials of the road.

"The wreckers removed the angle plates—that has been conclusively proved to us," he continued. "If the cars had been less strongly built, the wreck would have been frightful to contemplate. All the police machinery of the road will be put in operation to capture the wreckers."

Charles Krell's condition is serious. His jugular vein is almost severed and an artery is completely cut in two. He is unconscious and the physicians have little hope of his recovery. Fremont O'Neill is also in a dangerous condition.

BECKER HANGED.

The Chicago Wife Murderer Pays Highest Penalty of Law.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Albert August Becker, the German butcher, who on Jan. 27 last murdered his wife, Rachel, and afterwards chopped up and boiled the remains in order to dispose of them, was hanged in the county jail at noon. Becker's neck was not broken by the fall, and it was 16 minutes before he was pronounced dead.

No Cards Received.

New York, Nov. 10.—Admiral and Mrs. Dewey breakfasted in the dining room of their private suite at the Waldorf-Astoria at 9:30 a. m. A number of people called at the hotel during the morning to see the admiral, but they were doomed to disappointment, as no card was sent to the admiral. The admiral and his bride will remain in the city a day or so and then go to the summer home of Mrs. Ludlow, the sister of Mrs. Dew

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1899.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR KENTUCKY—Cooler, partly cloudy Saturday, with rain in northern portion; fair Sunday.

Ohio voted by a big majority against the President's policy in the Philippines. Both McLean and Jones are against "imperialism," and their combined vote is away ahead of Naeh's.

CHAIRMAN THOMAS D. SLATTERY is certainly to be congratulated upon his management of the recent campaign in this county. Some were in favor at the start of organization of clubs throughout the county and having speeches at schoolhouses in every precinct. A quiet and effective fight, however, was deemed best. Republicans smiled and concluded that Mr. Slattery had "laid down" and given up the case as a forlorn hope. He thought he knew his ground, however, and the result shows he acted wisely. There was a very handsome increase in the majorities as compared with recent years. It's Tom's turn to smile now.

THE ELECTION.

The official count began throughout the State yesterday, and in nearly all counties except Jefferson it will probably be completed to-day.

In spite of all the riot talk, there was no trouble.

The Lonesville Courier-Journal received reports from sixty-nine counties. In some counties Senator Goebel showed gains, while in others there were gains for Mr. Taylor.

Hot contests will be made over the vote of Knox, Jefferson, Nelson and over precincts in several other counties, and on these may depend the result, says the Courier-Journal.

In Nelson a serious error was made in the printing of the ballots. The name of William P. Taylor instead of W. S. Taylor appeared on the ballot in all precincts except one in Nelson County, and the Election Board signed the returns, showing only seventy-three votes for W. S. Taylor.

This gave Mr. Goebel a plurality of 1,886 on the face of the returns, and the Democratic leaders say that under the law W. S. Taylor will have to suffer the consequence of the error.

In Knox John Henry Wilson and other Republicans caused posters, or slips of paper with the names of candidates for Circuit Judge, to be put on about 2,000 ballots, and Chairman Allie W. Young has gone there to contest the vote.

There are contests over other points in McCracken, Union, Lewis and other counties.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them. Also old running and fever sores, ulcers, boils, felonies, corns, warts, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, chapped hands, chilblains, best pile cure on earth. Drives out pains and aches. Only 25c. a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by J. J. Wood & Son, druggists.

Billions of Postage Stamps.

When one purchases so insignificant a thing as a postage stamp he little realizes that in 1898 the number of 2-cent stamps issued was 2,500,000,000. As this stamp is one inch long the entire number placed end to end would reach 39,000 miles, or once and a half around the globe at the equator. During the year enough 1-cent stamps are used to reach from New York city, by way of Europe and Asia, to Bombay in India. If all the postage stamps issued by the Government in 1898 were placed one above the other they would make a pile twenty-one miles high, the number of all denominations being 3,500,000,000.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store every bottle guaranteed.

AN ECHO FROM SHILOH.

Interesting Reminiscences of the War. Death of Lieutenant Sam T. Forman, C. S. A.

The old time citizens of Maysville will remember Sam T. Forman, who left here in the summer of 1861 to link his fortune with the Southern Confederacy. Prior to his going to the war he was in the grain and commission business on the south side of Second street, just east of Market, in the brick building that is now occupied by T. J. Winter & Co. He was a gallant and beloved gentleman, and Mason County never sent forth a more heroic soul to die in a cause that he believed just and sacred. Although more than thirty-seven years has passed since his death, yet this is the first account of it that has ever been published.

Dr. A. N. Ellis has kindly given the BULLETIN the facts as he remembers them. He says that he took no notes of what he saw at Pittsburgh Landing—that he did not think it was necessary, for every incident of that bloody affair was written on his brain as if traced with a pen of fire. At the time of the battle he was a Lieutenant in the Forty-ninth Ohio Regiment and was serving as an Adjutant on the staff of the late General Nelson. He says:

"The battle of Shiloh closed about 4 o'clock on the afternoon of April 7, 1862, at which time the Confederates drew off and began their retreat to Corinth. My thoughts all along during the two days' fighting were of my brother George, who was a private soldier in the Seventieth Ohio Regiment, and the very moment hostilities ceased in our front I got permission from my commanding officer to see if I could not find him. The battlefield presented a frightful spectacle, for in those woods and fields more than 100,000 men had struggled for mastery all the long hours of those fearful days. Across the open spaces, in the thick underbrush, up and down the roads, behind every fence and log, the dead and wounded lay everywhere. Slain and crippled horses, dismounted cannon, broken muskets, drums and caissons completed the confusion.

"The tents of Grant's soldiers, out of which they had been driven when they were surprised on Sunday morning, were still standing, many of them badly torn and riddled by the gunboat cannon on Sunday night. The smoke of the conflict still hovered over the field or floated lazily up from the wet ground and lingered in the tree tops when I started on my sad journey, for as yet I knew nothing of the fate of my brother and expected to come upon his dead or mangled form at any moment. In my highly excited and nervous condition I ran hastily out upon the field—from one dead man to another, from one wounded man to another. I did not know where to look or where to go. My brother was one of Grant's men and had been in the battle both days. I was one of Buell's, and had only been there on Monday, or rather from about dark Sunday night. I only knew that the Seventieth Ohio belonged to Sherman's division and had been encamped several miles from the Tennessee, where the fight began, and was among the first troops engaged. I asked everybody I saw if they could tell me anything of Sherman's division and got all kinds of conflicting replies. I passed by many temporary field hospitals, where the surgeons were at their grim work. I peered through the window of a little log house and saw a man's arm taken off close to the shoulder joint. He must have been a brave man for he never winced when the black blood flew up against the side of the room or when the saw was applied to the gory bone. I went into the thicket and saw hundreds of blackened corpses of men and horses who had been wounded and afterwards burned to death, where the woods had been set afire by the shells. I saw the remains of five Confederate soldiers who had evidently been shielding themselves behind a tree and all met death by a big solid shot coming through the side of the tree. Their bowels had all been torn out and strung in shreds and ribbons on the ground. I talked with one Confederate soldier, clad in brown jeans, whose leg had been carried away above the knee by a cannon ball. He told me that he was from Hopkinsville, Ky. I always felt sorry that I did not take his name and regiment. By and by, much to my joy, I came across a man belonging to the Seventieth Ohio whom I knew quite well, for he used to work for my father on the farm. He was the tallest man and the tallest liar—a gay, gorgeous, talented, though not successful liar—in the regiment. Although his name is on my tongue, yet I will not tell it because he left relatives now living in Maysville and I do not want them to read my opinion of him. When I asked him about his regiment in general and my brother in particular he told me not to look any farther, that he was the 'only man left and that all the rest were dead and in hell.' When I asked him how it came that he was spared he told me he had become separated from his command early in the action. When he told me that, I thought of the 10,000 men whom Nelson and Buell had found cowering under the bank and wondered if he were not one of them. His account of the part he had taken in the battle was very entertaining, full of lurid pictures of gore and self-sacrifice, and the only time he displayed any emotion was when he described how he had killed a rebel and got his canteen of whisky, which he was afraid to drink for fear it contained poison. Tears came to his eyes when he told of how dry he was (and how he had been always dry—born dry) and how it just broke his heart when he smelt of that whisky and thought that perhaps it would be best for his insides if he left it alone. Across the chasm of more than a third of a century I can still see those tears!

Bidding my old friend good bye, I passed on to the spot where Trabue's division of Breckinridge's corps had assaulted McDowell's brigade of Sherman's division, on Sunday morning. In a space only 30 or 40 yards square the ground was almost covered with dead and wounded men in gray uniform. It had been raining and hearing some of the poor fellows complaining of being cold I hastily gathered some blankets and tried to make them a little more comfortable. If I remember correctly I was in the old abandoned camp of the Sixth Iowa and Fortieth Illinois. Passing from one wounded man to another I suddenly came upon my old acquaintance Sam T. Forman. In a few broken sentences, he told me that he was wounded in the thigh—he had been shot at the early onset on Sunday morning, and that he had had nothing to eat or drink since—that he was a great sufferer. He begged me to get an ambulance just as soon as I could, take him to the hospital, and report his condition to Gen'l. Nelson. Fearing that somebody might rob him he gave me his pocketbook and pistol. He had $294 in money—two 100 dollar bills, one 50 dollar bill, one 20 dollar bill and 24 dollars in Tennessee bank bills. After making him as comfortable as possible I hastened away to try to get an ambulance. I had long ways to go towards the river to find one. In my search I saw Lieut. Frank Sheets of Gen'l. R. W. Johnson's staff (afterwards killed at Stone river) and asked him to assist me. Finally I did get one but, alas, it was too late. It got dark and I got lost. Directing the ambulance driver to pick up a load of the wounded, I then started to try and find the camp of the Seventieth Ohio. After wandering around helplessly for sometime I suddenly came upon the object of my search. The first man I saw whom I knew was Capt. John T. Wilson, whose name still lives in the shape of that magnificent children's home at West Union. He stood by a blazing fire, his manly form standing out in fine relief against the dark background of the woods, while a streak of blood on his cheek showed where he had been wounded. On inquiring about my brother I was told that he was dead—was the first man killed on that part of the line—that the top of his head had been carried away by a cannon ball. A soldier volunteered to go with me to the corpse. One cannot imagine my feelings as we groped our way out into the dark among the roots and stumps and trees to where the poor fellow lay. I passed my hand down across his face and when my fingers rested upon his mustache I knew that it was cousin Wm. Ellis and not my brother George. I then retraced my steps to the camp fire and it was not long before Col. Cockerill ordered everybody to lie down on the ground and make ready to receive the enemy as it was rumored that the foe heavily reinforced was coming to retake the field! Jim Lawwill of Aherden pulled me down on the ground beside him, threw a gum blanket over me and it was not more than minute before I was sound asleep.

"As soon as daylight came I started out to find George and succeeded in locating him safe and sound, busily foraging for something to eat. He had lots to tell me of his doings during the battle. He had lost his overcoat, but how he had lost it he did not or would not tell. When I first came upon him I was so glad to see him that I cried like a baby. The intense nervous strain I had been subjected to for 60 hours almost broke me down. It seemed as if a wave of blood had been dashed up against my boyish feet.

"Returning at once to Gen. Nelson I told him all about Sam Forman being wounded out on the field. He at once ordered me to go and find him and take him to a hospital boat. Feeling quite sure that I would find him, the General got a parole from General Grant and wrote to Sam's father at Washington that he might expect his son at home in Kentucky just as soon as he was able to travel. Well, to make a short story out of a long one I will come straight to the point and say that I never found Sam. I went everywhere, especially onto the steamboats where I was horrified to find the condemned agony of that bloody battle. The suffering in the woods and fields was bad enough, but the suffering on the boats was a thousand times worse. When we remember that the loss on the Union and Confederate sides was over

WOMEN'S

Tailored Suits and Skirts!

Nothing taries here. The suits left of lots that came the first of October must be out at once. They are for wear. We mean that you shall have them. Prices reduced. Simply to accomplish this—and to carry out the principles of the store—reductions are made, though the suits are without fault. At $10, suits of black or navy blue cheviots; been $15. At $12.50, suits of Coverts and Serge, black and colors; been $18. At $15, suits of Venetian, brown, navy, castor, tan; been $20. Skirts and Jacket; altered without extra charge. Fit guaranteed.

SILKOTE PETTICOATS.

The new way of giving silk lustre to cotton makes wonderfully pretty petticoats at low prices. A special purchase of these petticoats makes prices even lower here. Bright, mercerized satins in a variety of solid colors, automobile, turquoise, Nile, robin egg. Others satin striped. Some have corded umbrella ruffle, others have deep flounce trimmed with narrow ruffles—75c, $1, $1.19, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75.

Yes,
Winter Will Come
Some Time.

When the nip gets into the air it will have an extra chill on account of all this prolonged and unseasonable warmth. Will you hold back until the rush is on, or choose now, when stocks are at their fullest and selecting is easiest? We are showing an elegant variety of Cheviots, Tweed and fancy Worsted Suits, in checks, stripes, in light and dark colors. $10, $12.50, $15 are some of the prices. Everything about these Suits, from trousers leg to collar, is brimming with style. We can't make a display of our merchandise, as we would like, but come in and we will show you through a great line of Suits and Overcoats.

No Right to Ugliness. The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electro Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate the stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50c. at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store.

The Bee Hive

A Multitude of Blanket Bargains.

Our large purchase in Blankets were made long before the advance in woolens and cottons. We are in a position to sell you Blankets at last year's prices, although they have advanced 30 to 40 per cent. Our stock is larger and more varied than ever before which means a great deal. We are showing a full sized Cotton Blanket in grey or white at 49c. the pair. Better grades and larger sizes at 79c., 85c. and $1.25. Prices on Woolen Blankets start at $2.39 for one that is worth $3. A superfine All Wool Blanket, in white or plaids, weighing five pounds and sold by others at $5, is priced here at $3.95.

Two Special Leaders in Our Cloak Department

The very large Cloak business we have already done this season demonstrates the excellence of our stock and that our prices are way below others. For this week we are showing a full lined All Wool Kensey Jacket, in black or castor, at $4.95. A splendidly made Seal Plush Cape, trimmed all around with fur, $4.95. Without exaggeration these garments are worth fully $7.50.

HEADQUARTERS FOR UNDERWEAR

We have always had the reputation of carrying the largest stock of underwear in town, for men, women, children. Our present stock more than maintains our good reputation of former seasons. There is nothing in the underwear line but what you'll find it here at prices always less than others.

ROSENAU BROS.,

PROPRIETORS OF THE BEE HIVE,

KINGS OF LOW PRICES

PRICE OF COAL.

It Has Not Been Higher Than 11 Cents Here Since the C. and O. Was Completed.

The statement a few days ago that the price of coal was advanced to 13 cents a bushel during the recent scarcity of the supply in this city was based on information the BULLETIN regarded as absolutely reliable.

The information was given by a hander of river coal, during a conversation about the supply. It turns out, however, that he was not posted as to the price.

Mr. William Davis handles C. and O. coal at this point, and he says the highest retail price reached during the recent shortage was 11 cents. He also says that is the highest price coal has sold at in Maysville since the C. and O. road was completed.

All the local coal dealers received a supply on the rise in the river this week and the present price is ten cents a bushel.

CHANGE OF SEASON IS HERE

The market is full of Clothing—a-ways will be—but when it comes to the new, stylish, well made sorts, they are scarce, and this season the house that did not buy correct styles early is simply "left at the post."

Light-colored Worsts in Plaids, Half-Plaids and Checks are a few "warm things." Then it is the shape next—short, natty, full-back Sacks, with high-cut, single-breasted and double-breasted Vests. Trousers right up to the fashion-plate and the prices—our prices—$10, $15 and $20. In Top Coats you find with us the very newest in Coverts and Whip Cords, black and Oxford unfinished Worsted Cheviots. Elegant Castor Beavers in black, dark blue and the latest colorings in brown. No matter what good we would say about our Top Coats, the garments will more than sustain it.

No shoddy goods or inferior makes ever find their way into our stock. Our purchasing power, coupled with our selling power

Always in the Lead

The biggest stock, the best stock, the cleanest stock, the most varied assortment. The only retail house in the city that buys in large quantities directly from the producers, thereby saving the jobbers' profit. If you want to buy a big supply of goods, I can furnish them to you. If you are not able to buy in large and can only buy in small quantities, I am always pleased to accommodate you. Every one knows that all classes of goods have for some time been steadily advancing. My long experience in business enabled me to foresee this, and my contracts for fall delivery, made early in the season were uncommonly large. Therefore I am in shape to successfully meet any and all competition, no matter from what source it may come, and save you money.

Nothing But the Very Best Goods Country Affords.

No shoddy, stale, impure or unwholesome goods offered. In fact my house is always headquarters for everything good to eat, and always of the very best. POULTRY, OYSTERS and GAME in season. Nature has just one pigment on her palette with which she produces all the marvelous tints of beauty, and that one pigment is the blood. The shell-like pink beneath the finger nails, the delicate rose of the cheek, the cherry ripeness of the lips, the iridescent brilliancy of the eyes are all produced by the blood. Just as the permanence of a beautiful painting will depend upon the purity of the colors with which it is painted, so the permanence of beauty depends on the purity of the blood. Paint, powder and cosmetics won't avail to preserve beauty. Beauty begins in the blood. Dr. Herod's Golden Medical Discovery is a true beautifier, because it provides for nature that pure blood with which alone she can paint. The use of this medicine will cleanse the skin, heighten the complexion, brighten the eyes, and give to face and form that radiance of health which is the greatest charm of beauty.

Dr. Pierce's Peasant Pellets are very effective in ridding the system of clogging residuum, which accumulates with constipated habit.

KENTUCKY CROPS.

Increase in the Acreage of Wheat and It Was Sown Under Very Favorable Conditions.

State Commissioner of Agriculture Moore in his monthly report says:

"Replies were received this month from 136 correspondents, representing 102 counties.

"The close of October saw practically the entire wheat crop seeded. The contemplated acreage is estimated at 101 as compared with the acreage of 1898, 93 per cent of which was sown prior to November 1. This is in striking contrast with the same date of 1898, when fully 30 per cent of the acreage remained to be sown.

"The western section reports the acreage same as last year, the increase being in the central section. The southeastern section, where comparatively little wheat is sown, is not included in the estimate of acreage and condition of the wheat crop.

"A considerable number of counties show a substantial increase in acreage, and a few of these report it the largest in the history of the counties. This is offset by reports from counties where the drought prevented the seeding of any but the corn and tobacco lands, by reason of which the acreage is materially reduced.

"The condition compared with average year is 97. For the past three years the condition on November 1 has been as follows: 1898, 96; 1897, 62; 1896, 96. In the western section the condition is 97, while for the central section it is 99.

"The soil was in most excellent condition for seeding, and generally there was sufficient moisture to permit rapid and perfect germination. As a result the stand is good and the plant vigorous. In a number of counties local showers from time to time have made the condition phenomenally high. In the central section, Bourbon County reports the condition 140 as compared with average years; Clark, 120; Scott, 115; Lincoln, 120, and Madison, 125.

"In the western section, Hickman County reports a condition of 120 and Larue a condition of 125.

"Against these very favorable reports, however, are reports from counties where the drought was long and severe and where the plant had difficulty in sustaining itself against the combined influences of heat and lack of moisture. In such counties the condition is correspondingly low. Some injury also has resulted from insects. In Mercer County cut worms have caused considerable damage, and in Warren the crop is infested with 'fly,' resowing to some extent being necessary.

On the whole, however, farmers have every reason to be encouraged by the prospect. The cultivation was probably never better, and now that the drought is broken we may expect an improvement on even the present flattering outlook.

"Pastures and live stock. Pastures have improved slightly during the month. The condition November 1 average 69 as against 65 on October 1. Feeding has been necessary, and where neglected, stock cattle especially are reduced in flesh. Farmers have curtailed the number of stock on hand so as to better enable them to care for the remainder. Few cattle are being fed for market, and on account of the absence of the usual grazing and the scarcity of stock water the condition of these is but 86 compared with average years.

"Hogs have been marketed freely, and but a small portion of the number fed remains uncolled. The condition, compared with average years, is 90. Thirty-two correspondents report hog cholera and ninety-seven report none in county.

"The weather has been favorable and good progress was made in housing the corn crop. The yield has proven disappointing, falling far below expectations. More than the usual attention has been given to saving the fodder crop, and the supply of roughage is considered ample."
